

Taste is a matter of tobacco quality

We state it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield are of finer quality (and hence of better taste) than in any other cigarette at the price.

Full Count SHINGLES

The subject of full count shingles has been backgrounded for a time sufficient to show that no small proportion of consumers of shingles are without knowledge of how to figure shingles.

Shingles of random widths are estimated on a standard basis of four inches—five shingles to each course or twenty inches wide, two hundred courses making one thousand shingles.

It doesn't matter how many bundles contain the thousand shingles; there must be two hundred courses, twenty inches wide of closely packed shingles.

For example let's take the four bundle to a thousand kind. Each bundle should contain fifty courses, times four bundles, making two hundred courses of closely packed shingles—50 times 4 equals 200 times 20 equals 4000, divided by 4 inches, equals 1000 shingles.

Another example shows where five bundles to the thousand were sold. Each bundle contained forty courses, nineteen inches wide, and were packed loosely enough to show voids—spaces between edge of shingles—averaging one inch to each course—40 times 5 equals 200 times 19 equals 3800 minus 1 times 200 equals 3600 divided by 4 equals 900 shingles.

The standard thickness of all good brands of 16 inch N. B. cedar shingles is 5 to 2, meaning thereby that five butts of these shingles when put together should measure two inches.

MISSING FARMER RETURNS

West Brattleboro Young Man Won't Discuss Disappearance

Brattleboro, Nov. 10.—Carl Sargent, the young West Brattleboro farmer who left home October 12 after telling his sister, Miss A. Belle Sargent, and a neighbor, Royal H. Faulkner, whom he engaged to do the farm work while he was gone, that he would be away a week, returned home Tuesday night by automobile from Massachusetts, but none of his relatives or friends, except his sister, knew of his return until yesterday morning. He declines to say who brought him home or where he has been.

When interviewed by Selectman W. E. Estlin, Mr. Sargent said "he didn't know why a man couldn't go away for a vacation without everybody getting stirred up about it," and to the correspondent he declared "if anybody finds out where I have been the information will come from some body besides me." He said he was disgusted that so much publicity had been given his absence.

Mr. Sargent denied that he wrote his sister a letter saying he had obtained work in a cotton mill in Manchester, N. H., and asking her to sell the stock at its market value. Mr. Sargent said she received such a letter in a pink envelope but did not save it, but her brother denies any knowledge of such a letter.
